

100,176 Casualties In Korea

American Fighting Men Killed, Wounded Or Missing In War As Reported to Date

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Announced U.S. battle casualties in Korea reached 100,176 today. The Defense department's weekly summary, reporting an increase of 950 since last week, sent the total over the 100,000 mark. By comparison, U.S. combat casualties in the first year of this country's participation in World War II were 59,000.

Of the 950 new battle casualties reported today, 130 were killed outright in action; 762 were wounded, and 38 are missing.

Following is a summary of the reports, covering casualties whose families received notification through last Friday:

Last Week Inc.	Total
Killed in action	15,002
Wounded	71,642
Missing	12,582

Total	Nov. 20	Nov. 19	Nov. 18
Battle deaths (X)	16,805	167	16,972
Current missing	10,836	35	10,871

(X)—Includes killed in action, 1,632 fatally wounded and 784 dead, originally reported missing.

(Y)—After deducting from gross total 1,391 returned, 174 known captured and 184 known dead.

Following is a breakdown of total casualties by services: army 81,996, navy 1,143, air force 915, marine corps 16,122.

American families have been told of some 22,000 casualties among their men since Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway first offered to talk about an armistice on June 30.

Chinese Cause Casualties

About seven out of every 10 American battle losses have been suffered since the Chinese Reds poured across the Manchurian border into the then virtually-won Korean battlefield a little more than one year ago.

The 70,000 U.S. casualties reported since the Chinese entered the war include nearly 8,000 of the 12,500 Americans listed at one time or another as missing in action. This missing figure has been reduced to a current total of around 10,800. Among these are the some 5,500 Americans reported by Col. James M. Hanley, chief of the war crimes section of the U.S. Eighth Army in Korea, to have been killed by their captors.

General Ridgway said in a report yesterday there was "considerable evidence" that approximately 6,000 U.S. soldiers captured by the Communists were victims of "death by atrocity." He said there was no "conclusive evidence" that the number of atrocity deaths, and that 254 victims had been identified and their families notified.

Most of the 6,000 who, the general said, may have been atrocity victims, are included in the current missing category, his report stated.

Half Sine Retreats

Approximately half of all U.S. casualties in Korea have occurred since the bitter retreats and rear guard withdrawals of last winter and during the series of Red spring offensives and UN counter blows which have moved the battle line back to the center of Korea.

For the army and the navy, the Korean conflict has been the fourth costliest in U.S. history, ranking in human casualties after World War II, the Civil War and the First World War.

Current marine corps losses of over 16,000 make this undeclared war more costly in killed and wounded than all the wars, campaigns and expeditions which the Leathernecks fought from the Revolution until the start of World War II.

The records show that proportionately fewer Americans have been reported missing in Korea than during World War II.

Freedom Forum At Joint Lion, Kiwanis Meeting

The Kiwanis and Lions clubs met jointly at noon Wednesday at the Bothwell hotel in the Ambassador room at which time James W. "Jim" Green, vice-president of the Sedalia Jaycees, gave a talk on "This Is Our Problem."

Mr. Green illustrated points of his talk by placards and carried it through the four objects, first, identify Socialism and Communism; second, Superiority of the American Way of Life; third, Understanding the American Way of Life; and fourth, Preserve the American Way of Life.

The talk is a part of a Freedom Forum being sponsored by the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce. It is being presented to all organizations desiring to hear it. Several members of the Jaycees are preparing to carry the forum to other organizations in Sedalia and surrounding communities.

The speaker was introduced by F. Smith, secretary of the Lions, who was program chairman for the meeting.

Harold Seaberg, president of the Lions, presided over the meeting and introduced T. H. Young, president of Kiwanis and Kiwanis Secretary Pinkney Miller.

Burl Sammons was introduced by Dr. Glenn A. Walker as a new member of the Lions.

Next week Gordon Buckner, 16, Marshall, will be the guest speaker at the Lions meeting. The young man, a member of the Marshall Boy Scouts, will speak on "World Jamboree of Boy Scouts held in Austria this year."

Moscow Uses POW's Words For Replies

Answering Atrocity Charges With Quotes From Yank Prisoners

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Moscow is using what it describes as testimony of American war prisoners to reply to U. S. charges of Communist atrocities in Korea.

One such prisoner was quoted in a broadcast recorded here as saying that he was better off in a North Korean camp than he was when unemployed in New York.

A long series of such statements, complete with names and addresses, has been beamed to the United States and other western countries since Col. James M. Hanley of the Eighth Army made his estimate that about 5,500 American prisoners have been slain by the North Koreans and the Chinese.

In an English language broadcast reported today by U. S. government monitors, one American prisoner was quoted:

"I am treated courteously and live in good conditions, get plenty to eat, and a daily supply of tobacco. When I was captured, my uniform was in shreds. Here in the camp, I was provided with new clothes. I now understand a good many things I did not understand. That Koreans are humane and noble-hearted people."

The name and address of this prisoner and others were deleted from the record made public here by the government in accordance with a policy of protecting families and friends in this country.

Moscow radio said a statement signed by 203 American prisoners contained this passage: "We are grateful to the Chinese volunteers for our salvation and the fine way they are treating us. We regard them as our friends and not enemies."

The Communist radio used these and other statements to support a claim that "captured American soldiers and officers are perfectly safe and well taken care of."

Thanksgiving Day

Once again the big Thanksgiving Day. When folks forget how much they weigh. When calories are put aside. And appetites are satisfied. For in the kitchen pots and pans. Make more noise than a dozen bands. As Mom makes dressing and pumpkin pies. And other things to appease.

Outside a gobble may be heard. As Pop goes out to kill the bird— After the turkey does he go— But poor ol' Pop—he's just too slow— Almost—not quite—as he chases around— He nearly has it and then falls down— Then from across the fence a shout. Asks what the noise is all about— So Pop, disheveled, bruised and sore. Sees his neighbor and rambles over; As Pop and the neighbor chew the rag. The turkey wants to still play tag— He struts about and gets up near— He doesn't have a bit of fear. Then Pop darts quick and that's the end. Of the gay life of our turkey friend— So Pop's Thanksgiving job is done. But Mom's has hardly yet begun.

She dresses the fowl and lets him bake. There's celery to clean and rolls to make— And then at last the dinner complete. The family all sits down to eat— Mom comes in with the bird on a plate. It looks so good they just can't wait—

They bow their heads in Thanksgiving prayer. And thank the Lord for His loving care— Then they eat and eat and stuff and stuff. They never know they have enough— The meal over—up from the table. The family gets—if they are able— Pop and the kids, with not a worry. Go to the football game in a hurry—

They root and they yell for the team—but gee— Mom isn't along—where can she be— She is at home as you might guess— Washing the dishes—cleaning the mess— But she is thankful things are that way. Her family enjoys Thanksgiving Day.

Bob Sherman Asked For It— Jaycees Ship 13 Large Boxes Of Clothing to Korean Needy

Thirteen large boxes of clothing were sent to Korea this week by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in response to a call from a member of their organization, First Lieutenant Robert Sherman, who asked for help for the Korean children and will deliver the clothing to those who need it most.

Sedalians gave great quantities of clothing to the Jaycees and the collecting and packing was directed by Ernie Schlichting and Jim Young.

Because it will take about a month to get the clothing to Korea, and by that time winter will have set in there, the collecting of clothing had to be done in a short time, James L. Van Wagner, Jr., president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce said. No more clothing is needed at this time by the Jaycees for that reason—its drive has been completed. Sherman plans to take pictures of some of the people who receive the clothing.

Truman Forecasts Very Bitter Election Campaign Next Year

Truce Hopes Brighter

Commies Submit Cease-Fire Plan That Could Bring Armistice by Xmas

MUNSAI, Korea, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Truce hopes brightened today when Communist negotiators submitted a cease-fire plan of their own that could open the way for a Korean armistice by Christmas.

It was similar to a United Nations plan for creating a buffer zone along the present fighting line to take effect if an armistice is signed within 30 days.

A UN command communiqué referred to the resemblance as superficial.

But the command's official spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, said if the Red plan "means what we think it means... then I think we are very close to solution" of the buffer zone question.

The point in doubt was whether the Communist proposal means "that troops will be withdrawn from the buffer zone after an armistice is signed" as the UN has proposed.

At the close of the session Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodges, heading the UN subcommittee told the Red delegates "we will present you with the necessary revisions to clear up this proposal" at Thursday's meeting. It is set for 11 a. m. (8 p. m. Wednesday CST).

In the battle areas, UN forces today threw back the Reds' strongest attempt to halt an allied line-strengthening drive on the central front. The UN push has gained nearly five miles since Saturday.

The Republic of Korea (ROK) Sixth division stopped counterattacks by elements of two Red battalions.

The South Koreans also threw back several other jobs at their Pukhan river line southeast of Kumsong. Tuesday they knocked the Reds off three important hills in that sector.

On the eastern front United Nations soldiers repulsed a Red attack northwest of the Puchonbowl after a five and one-half hour fight.

The only action on the western front was northwest of Chorwon. An allied raiding party occupied one hill position in Communist territory.

Sedalia Students Get Thanksgiving Holiday to Mon.

The extra day is given for the work done by the children for the annual bazaar recently held at the school.

The St. Joseph school closed at 11 a. m. Wednesday and will remain closed until Monday morning.

Baked Chicken With Trimmings Is Menu For 12 at County Jail

Thanksgiving Day will be observed at the Pettis county jail, Sheriff John Taylor said today in announcing the plans of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lutjen, the deputy sheriffs in charge of the jail.

Mrs. Lutjen has arranged for the following menu to be served: baked chicken, oyster dressing, giblet gravy, mashed potatoes, creamed peas, cranberry sauce, celery, pumpkin pie and coffee.

Deputy Sheriff Lutjen said today he knows he will have 12 prisoners to be served. He is hoping no more prisoners will be placed in jail and if there are any it will be at least two—he doesn't want "13."

Nation Will Give Thanks, Express Desire for Peace

By the Associated Press

A nation half at war will observe Thanksgiving day tomorrow while its leaders are searching for peace throughout an uneasy world.

In the United States, turkey will be plentiful but expensive. The day will sparkle with warmer weather in the east, with football games everywhere.

Halfway across the world, in grim Panmunjom, American officers have promised an answer to the latest Communist counter-proposal for a cease fire in Korea. There was cautious optimism that both sides are coming closer together on the first of several difficult problems to be solved before the guns are stilled.

Combat men will pause, wherever possible, to commemorate a day halfway between peace and all-out war. For most, the army says, there will be turkey dinners and the trimmings. Some, on the battlefield, may have to wait for theirs.

Blood Covered Dog May Lead To Man's Body

Searchers Still Look For Body of Hunter Lost Since Nov. 5th

CENTERVILLE, Mo., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Appearance of a dog smeared in human blood has thrown a gruesome cast over continuing efforts to find W. C. "Bill" Bounds, 79, of Vulture, who disappeared on the first day of the deer season, Monday, Nov. 5, according to Warner Bounds, a grandson.

Bounds was last seen that afternoon by a son-in-law, Ervin Lones, St. Louis, when Bounds left a truck the two were riding in to be gone "a few minutes" up a hollow to look for deer. He was never seen again.

Searching parties ranging in size from 25 to 300 men daily have combed the area, mid-way between Reiford and Annapolis, with no trace of Bounds being found.

A few days ago a dog owned by Charles Cox, who lives a mile and a half from where Bounds was last seen, reappeared after being gone all night and was covered with blood.

A blood sample sent to the St. Louis police laboratories was identified as being human blood, according to a report relayed by the state highway patrol radio at Willow Springs.

Warner Bounds said today efforts to get the dog to retrace its footsteps have been futile.

The family of the missing man has put up $100 reward for information leading to location of the man who disappeared during a 10-inch snowfall.

Bounds has six children, Robert of Fredericktown, Lee, Ora and Mrs. Blanche Evans and Mrs. Nora Lones all of St. Louis, and Mrs. Cora Lewis of Kansas City.

The aged man had accompanied a deer hunting party of relatives and friends, mostly from St. Louis, to a cabin in the Low Hollow area. The group had moved from stand to stand during the day but the weather malarkey worsened and game was scant.

Lones and bounds rode ahead of the main group in a truck and at a point some three miles southeast of the cabin Bounds decided to take his shotgun and "hunt a little up a hollow." Lones waited in vain for his return.

Lending further mystery to Bounds' disappearance is the fact that he knew the territory thoroughly and had been in excellent health.

Democrats Won't Take 'Lies and Smears' Lying Down, He Says; Speech Brings Rebuts From GOP's Taft, Gabrielson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—President Truman, in a speech reminiscent of his 1948 "give 'em hell" style, declared last night that the Democrats won't take lying down the "lies and smears" he said he anticipates from Republicans and "special interests" in the 1952 presidential campaign.

Mr. Truman told an audience of party members here he thinks more money will be spent "in trying to defeat the Democratic party next year than has ever before been spent in any election in the history of the country."

This brought from Republicans a reiteration of "corruption" charges. Mr. Truman did not mention in his speech any of the charges of wrongdoing which have been alleged against his administration.

His declaration that "the truth and the facts are on our side" brought a retort from Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) that "President should certainly get the prize for political effrontery" for his speech.

Guy G. Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican national committee, said Mr. Truman had "a flash of realism" when he said "a mistake in a presidential election can cause the country untold harm."

"Won't Mistake Again"

The reminder "isn't necessary for millions of Americans," Gabrielson said. "They are disgusted and alarmed at the high taxes, high prices, corruption, crises and war of his incompetent administration. They won't make the mistake again."

Without naming the senator, Mr. Truman singled out Taft with the assertion that "special interests" had poured money into Ohio last year to reelect the Republican.

Taft, an avowed candidate for his party's presidential nomination, said in a statement in Cincinnati that "it is the Truman party which is the beneficiary of the money of special interests and of millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money used for political propaganda."

"The head of an administration which has condoned communism, immorality and corruption and does not even bother to deny the proven charges, talks of the great moral position of his administration in the world," Taft continued.

"He talks of a bipartisan foreign policy, although he wretchedly spent money to meet this attack, adding: 'If Mr. Truman can ever receive 70,000 completely voluntary and unsolicited contributions of $1 each, as I did in 1950, his talk about special interests would not ring so false.'"

Mr. Truman, who planned to return today to Key West, Fla., to resume his interrupted vacation, outlined for his party at a banquet of the National Women's Democratic club last night the kind of a campaign he said it must make next year.

Sees Slugging Battle

He pictured it as a slugging battle against well-heeled Republicans who could be expected to put on a "dirty smear campaign."

The President forecast a Republican attempt to buy the presidency with excessive campaign spending, asserted that "misrepresentation can be expected to reach new heights" and said that if the GOP chooses to make foreign policy an issue it will be "overwhelmingly repudiated by the people."

"I do not expect the Democratic party to take that kind of attack lying down," he declared as listeners applauded.

"I do not expect my party to run away from a fight," he said, adding: "It never did and it never will."

The President left up in the air the question whether he will run again. But he seemed to indicate that if he doesn't, he fully expects to have the determining voice in naming the Democratic nominee.

Mrs. Truman, who had a lot to do with making the presidential campaign a "dirty war," laughed with the crowd as the President said:

No Word on Candidate

"I am not going to make any announcement about who the candidate will be, although I do have some ideas on the subject."

Mrs. Truman has reportedly urged the President to retire when his present term expires.

The President approached his Contract Let For Route AA In Pettis Co.

Far-to-Market Road No. of Green Ridge; Howard Gets Contract

A contract for constructing 3.3 miles of state supplementary (farm-to-market) Route AA in Pettis county, north of Green Ridge, westerly, has been awarded Howard Construction company, Sedalia, by the State Highway Commission. The work will cost about $65,273.

The new road will be graded, a 100-foot deck girder bridge installed over Elk Fork of Muddy Creek, and a granular, all-weather surface applied. Construction will be carried out under supervision from the commission's Division 4 office in Kansas City, of which H. M. Brush is division engineer.

William J. Groves, division construction engineer, will direct the activities through a project engineer to be assigned.

Route AA will leave Route 127(A) at Prairie View church, north of Green Ridge. It will follow an existing road, west past Prairie View school, cross the east prong of Elk Creek near the east property lines of the William Breeden and Q. A. Morgan estate properties, cross Elk Fork at the Amos Miller and Lee Voltat farms and terminate between those farms at the north-south county road there.

The Route AA project was among similar supplementary road improvement projects on which the commission now has completed contracts on bids received Nov. 2 in Jefferson City. Other work was in: Nodaway, Lincoln, Shelby, Henry, Howard, Maries, Monticau, Cole, Greene, Wright, Sullivan and Chariton counties.

1948 "give 'em hell" campaign form as he virtually dared the Republicans to make an issue of foreign policy. He said some GOP members "want to play with dynamite" in that manner.

"But we can meet this issue if it comes," he declared. "This is a warning: If the Republicans do make foreign policy an issue in the campaign, it will be the best issue the Democratic party has. We can stand on our record in foreign policy and our achievements in the struggle for peace."

Ignores Charge

Mr. Truman ignored charges made against officials of his administration in connection with government loans and the internal revenue bureau scandals. Some Republicans have contended the Democrats will talk about foreign policy in an effort to soft peddle domestic difficulties.

Mr. Truman's line was to attack the methods the Republicans have used and to accuse them of distorting facts. He said "special interests" will pour plenty of money into such efforts in 1952.

"There will be loud Republican voices trying to destroy our faith in ourselves and in our present course of action as a nation," he declared. "There will be a deliberate attempt to misrepresent the basic facts."

"The bitter, partisan, backward-looking 'old guard' will try to belittle our progress and prosperity at home."

"I venture to predict that there is going to be more money spent in trying to defeat the Democratic party next year than has ever before been spent in any election in the history of the republic."

Bob Thomas in Hollywood—

Handsome Harry's Ugly Pan Pays Off—It's His Fortune

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 21—(AP)—Just like any glamor boy, Handsome Harry Wilson's face is his fortune. The only difference is that Harry's is the ugliest pan in Hollywood.

Oh, it doesn't hurt Harry's feelings to have that pointed out. After all, he has made a good living since 1924 from his oversized, leathery face. It has also been the cause of numerous brushes with the police.

"I guess people think I'm the perfect criminal type," said Harry in his rumbling voice. "Whenever they're making a crime or prison picture, the producers always think of me. I've been in almost every class C cops-and-robber picture ever made."

Harry's only trouble is that cops have the same type-casting ideas as producers. On one occasion he was waiting on a Hollywood boulevard corner for a streetcar to take him to a film location. It was early in the morning and Harry kept looking in a drugstore window for the time. When the streetcar finally came, he was about to step into it when a patrol car stopped him. He was questioned about a report he was casing the drugstore for a robbery.

Once while taking a short cut home through an alley, he came upon a policeman looking for a prowler. The cop stuck a gun in Harry's ribs and it took a lot of talking to get out of that one. Harry was hauled off the street another time and "positively identified" by a woman as the man who robbed her. It was on that occasion that a police detective who knew him gave Harry a signed card assuring possible arresters that he was a law-abiding citizen.

Harry, an ex-seaman, started in the movies in 1924. He was enlisted involuntarily as a soldier extra while he was waiting for a friend outside a studio. A year later, he got a job as double and stand-in for Wallace Beery and he remained with the actor 25 years until his death.

"Beery was a strange guy," recalled Harry. "He had an unhappy youth and he was always afraid somebody was trying to take advantage of him. He had no real friends. I got along fine with him because I understood him. If he said 'Good morning,' I'd answer him. But if he didn't, I kept my mouth shut because I knew he didn't want to talk."

After Beery's death, Harry started doubling for Broderick Crawford in "All the Kings Men." He has been with Crawford ever since. Handsome Harry also does his own roles and recently played an inmate in "My Six Convicts."

By now this sort of thing comes easily to him, but he's careful not to wear his costume out of the studio. He went out for lunch in his stripes one day a few years back and guess what happened. Yep, he was calling the studio from the police station again.

Chemistry's Value Related To Optimists

Ralph Carrel Speaks At Club Meeting; Gives Chem. History

Ralph Carrel, of the Carrel Clinical Laboratory, was the speaker Tuesday noon at the Optimist club meeting at Bothwell hotel. He took for his subject: "Chemistry in Our Lives Today."

Mr. Carrel told of the development of chemistry from the time of the alchemist, trying to make gold, down to the present time. The result of this growth has made a greater contribution to our lives today the speaker said, than a way to make gold ever could be.

Chemistry is one of the largest fields today, Mr. Carrel said and it was once forbidden. Today it is a process of control and accuracy and its growth is being demonstrated by the history of the American Chemist Society. "This society he said is 75 years old and its beginning was from 25 men. Today the society has a membership of 43,000 who work in 24 different classifications with the chemistry field. As a result of the growth, the speaker said, our lives are completely dependent on chemistry at every step.

Women's Division Beats Community Chest Quota Today

The women's division of the Community Chest drive has met and exceeded its quota, according to Mrs. Cline Cain, chairman. A total of $2,194.88 has been reported to the Community Chest headquarters by the women workers, whose quota had been set at $2,000.

A few districts are not completely reported and it is likely, according to Mrs. Cain, that these reports will increase the total in the near future.

Organized labor has added further to its contribution, with the Painters Local, No. 726, giving $7; Bricklayers Local, No. 24, $10; Missouri Pacific Shop Crafts, $20; City Firemen's Local, No. 23, $22; and Telephone Workers of America, $52.

The total of chest contributions to date is $18,135.85.

Korean Goes to Lord, Prays For Help This Thanksgiving

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(AP)—A Thanksgiving prayer by a Korean: O Lord of our household, we thank thee for the ripe persimmon, the golden gourd, the rice that has ripened in the paddies.

We thank thee for the daughter that is here, the son that is still among us. We pray thy help for the sons who are away.

On this day of bounty we also pray thy blessing upon the quaint stranger among us—the American, and his friends. They surely follow thy duty.

Dear Lord, it is hard to be a Korean in these days. There is the question of how we should turn. And no matter how we turn there is trouble.

We are, O Lord, as Thou knowest, an humble farm folk. Our days are measured by the turning sun. The best reward we can hope for is good weather. When the grain ripens, we ripen. When the rice tumbles under storm, we falter.

Our hopes rise or fall with the growth in the fields. Such are we. No people to rise up and boldly change any other people's history—but one who has always been ready to rise to defend our own. The Russians and their Chinese friends come down from the north to tell a Korean what a Korean should be. And from the south the stubborn Americans and their allies say what a Korean should also be.

It is all so confusing, bloody, and temporary. In this tangled international responsibility the average Korean would like to take time off, look at himself in the mirror—and see what he would like a Korean to be.

O Lord, our people is divided. We are unique in history. We are caught in a civil war—a war this side and that side of the 38th parallel. And we are also become an international testing ground of the weapons of outsiders.

But a people and a land must choose. O Lord. And on this day of Thanksgiving, it is the mouth of South Korea that speaks Thy praise here.

Our faults are sores in Thy divine eyes. Our virtues are as snows before Thy suns. They melt, and they are humble.

Yet, O Lord, Korea must be our own Korea again. It was our fair land of morning calm for so long. It must be our fair land of morning again.

There was a time before the foreigners first came when a Korean, dying, was buried huddled in a hill slope that looked across a greening paddy and a flowing stream to another hill beyond.

It was all Korea then. And that is the way it must be again. A Korean must have a place to die in—and to live in—that he can call his own.

He must, O Lord, have a land he can call—his chosen.

Christian Science Lecturer In Address Here Tuesday Eve

Walter W. Kantack, New York City, a member of the Christian Science board of lecturers, spoke Tuesday night before a large group at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Sixth and Lamine.

His subject was "Christian Science: Its Call to Healing and Redemption" and the context of his address follows:

One characteristic common to all the recorded teachings of the great prophets and spiritual leaders in the Holy Scriptures is the constant call or appeal to thought. For example, Joshua's counsel, "Choose you this day whom ye will serve" (Josh. 24:15); Joel's admonition, "Render your heart, and not your garments" (Joel 2:13); Christ Jesus' invitation, "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest" (Matt. 11:28), and his promise, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:32); as well as Paul's advice, "And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God" (Rom. 12:2)—all these are plainly appeals to thought.

Christian Science and Scriptures
Deriving its basis and authority solely from the Bible, this is naturally the healing and redeeming method of Christian Science. It constantly appeals to thought and, understood, spiritually enlightens it. This enlightenment shows us that we can and should, under God's direction and protection, enjoy freedom of choice as to whom we will serve: that we can and should examine our thinking and correct it; that we can come unto and find rest in Christ, in Truth; that we can know the truth and be free; that we can see our present experience transformed by the renewing of our sense of things and thus learn to know and to prove the "good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God." This Science leads away from materialism and its limitations toward spiritual understanding and better health and living.

Christian Science is not a human system of philosophy, but a divine revelation of eternal Truth, of the spiritual meaning of the Old and New Testaments. It is so simple, understandable, and altogether consistent that little children grasp it and give convincing proofs of it. And it is scientific in the highest sense of that term and its requirements, in that it can be demonstrated in the degree that it is spiritually understood and practiced.

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, makes this arresting statement: "The demands of God appeal to thought only" (p. 182). Mrs. Eddy could make this emphatic statement with authority because it was based upon practical experience.

Basic Thought-Appeals
Basically the appeals to thought which abound in the Bible are made in order to help mankind overcome belief in the equal reality of opposites—to assist us in determining what is true and what is false.

Throughout the Scriptures we find a record of the rise and fall of moral and spiritual perception and adherence, progress and prosperity attending the rise and retrogression the fall. However, Science reveals that there is a new and progressively more spiritual appeal to thought, leading to changeless spiritual understanding.

Christ Jesus' Ministry
In Christ Jesus' ministry he drew attention to natural phenomena and domestic and rural duties in his endeavor to illustrate and demonstrate the utter separateness and unrelatedness of opposites and the need for recognizing and preserving the good and rejecting and destroying the evil and destructive. Christ Jesus lifted thought not only to a choice between good and evil, but still higher. He showed that fundamentally the healing and redemptive need was and is to recognize God as Spirit and creation as altogether spiritual. He told his listeners, in effect, that false material beliefs, which he called "tares," would have to be separated from spiritual facts, bound and burned, and the wheat of spiritual truth garnered.

Generally speaking, the aggregate of human thinking and acting is still premised on a firm belief in opposites in connection with every item of thought. Contraries are both accepted as real, and evil and matter even believed to be more powerful than good and Spirit.

Mission of Christian Science
It is into this confused and scientifically impossible sense of things that Christian Science has come in the fullness of time and in the moment of the promised appearing of the Comforter, designated by Christ Jesus as the "Spirit of truth" (John 16:13), and of which he said, "He will guide you into all truth." It is the mission of Christian Science to carry forward the separating of the chaff of false belief from the wheat of divine reality. It does so upon a Christianly scientific basis in the spiritually mental healing of physical ills and all other inharmonies, thus leading to practical and eternal salvation.

Right Understanding of God
As a result of her discovery and experience Mrs. Eddy wrote in Science and Health, "It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony" (p. 399). Thus a right understanding of God is of first importance to the student of Christian Science.

To the end of furthering a right understanding of God and on Scriptural basis and authority, the answers to the first two questions in the chapter in Science and Health entitled "Recapitulation," the chapter from which classes in Christian Science are taught, are devoted to defining God.

Man God's Reflection
The Bible informs us that man is made, or exists, in the image and likeness of God. Christian Science shows man, God's image, to be the perfect, eternal, spiritual reflection or expression of God. It shows that this status of reflection requires a recognition of the eternal oneness of God and man which must be spiritually perceived, understood, and progressively demonstrated.

The image and likeness, thus understood, must be and remain one with that of which it bears witness. The relation of a ray of light to its source illustrates the God and man relationship.

Christian Science Healing
It is on the simple and basic spiritual premise that man is God's image and likeness, or God's expression, and consistent adherence to this spiritual fact, that Christian Science demonstrates its healing and redeeming ministry. Our expectation and our goal is expressed in Paul's summary of spiritual progress, wherein he says, "Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ" (Eph. 4:13). Paul recognized that false belief must be replaced by the understanding of spiritual truth. Christian Science shows us that such replacement acts as a law of healing in human experience, made up, as it is, so largely of material beliefs.

Jesus and the Christ
In speaking of Jesus, Mrs. Eddy says (Science and Health, p. 313): "Jesus of Nazareth was the most scientific man that ever trod the globe. He plunged beneath the material surface of things, and found the spiritual cause."

The profound wisdom, as well as the altogether scientific nature of Christ Jesus' ministry, is becoming more and more apparent. Mrs. Eddy's discovery, Christian Science, not only emphasizes the sharp distinction which he drew between Spirit and matter, but also that his teachings and demonstrations reveal that the opposites, which he termed God and mammon, Spirit and flesh, are mental contraries. It shows that the so-called human problem is essentially a conflict between false mentality or material sense and true consciousness or spiritual understanding.

Twilight of Materialism
That spiritual sense and understanding are the most vital need of our time is widely recognized. The editor of The Christian Science Monitor, speaking at chapel exercises at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., on "The Twilight of Materialism," included these remarks: "We live, as everybody knows, in one of the most paradoxical moments of human history. . . I am myself profoundly convinced that we are living in the dark hours which pre-

Side Glances

"Remember that big turkey dinner last year—don't stuff yourself again and blame it on my mother's cooking!"

cede the dawn." He summarized his talk in the words, "The stern challenge is to apply the new-old imperative of spiritual idealism to human affairs."

Spiritual Idealism
"To apply the new-old imperative of spiritual idealism to human affairs." How these words recall to mind those of the prophet Isaiah, "Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? . . . Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you. . . For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord." (Isa. 55:2, 3, 8).

Always it is the motivating thought which outward conditions manifest, whether in the experience of the individual, the nation, or the world. In order to change conditions, to change them adequately, thought must be changed. Human material sense must be replaced by divine spiritual understanding. This change of thought is made practically possible by Mrs. Eddy's discovery that all real being is in God, the divine Mind. The clear understanding that things are thoughts and that, as our textbook tells us, "eternal things (verities) are God's thoughts as they exist in the spiritual realm of the real" (p. 337) must underlie our sense of "spiritual idealism" if we expect to apply it effectively in human affairs.

Salvation Spiritual
How clearly and encouragingly Christ Jesus' parable (Luke 15: 11-32) of the prodigal's journey into the far country of material sense and its delusions typifies erring human thought. And how revealing is this parable when considered as depicting mortal or human sense, rather than merely the wastrel son of a certain man who had two sons. This material, false, counterfeit sense of man and things has, in belief, been off on its own, believing itself capable of making its own way in total disregard of creative principle, divine mind. Its need of healing and redemption is certainly evident. Jesus' parable says the condition of this "younger son" grew steadily worse until "he came to him-

Truck Fees Hike Voted By Mo. House

Surprising Comeback For Bill Follows An Earlier Defeat

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 21.—A big hike in truck fees voted a surprising comeback in the Missouri House yesterday.

Once it was sent back to a House-Senate conference committee on a close 61 to 59 vote.

But sponsors immediately asked for reconsideration of the vote, arguing that many members didn't know what was happening in the flurry of parliamentary maneuvering.

After another hour of debate a final vote passed the controversial bill 89 to 37.

The bill, one of a series sponsored by the administration to produce more money for road building, would hike the revenue from buses and trucks an estimated $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 over the present annual collection of $4,000,000.

The conference committee compromise still needs Senate approval before it can go to the governor.

The road program bills have been one of the hottest issues this session and the truck fee raiser was the hottest of the group.

It drew many representatives of the bus and truck industry here last spring. That provoked a summer-long investigation of alleged reports lobbyists were paying off legislators. No evidence of bribery was found, the committee reported.

And the deadlock between the House and Senate caused another summer-long investigation — by a joint House-Senate road commission — to find a series of road money raisers both houses would accept.

Even then the two houses could not get together on the truck fee bill. It had to go to another joint committee to settle differences.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Wed., Nov. 21, 1931

OBITUARIES

Louis F. Ritchie

Louis F. Ritchie, 75, a member of a pioneer family in Sedalia, active in political and lodge circles here for many years, was married in bed at his home, 123 East Broadway, about 8 o'clock Wednesday morning by his wife, Mrs. May Vawter Ritchie, an instructor in the Broadway school.

Mr. Ritchie was born in Sedalia May 4, 1876, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Ritchie, and was married at Brookville, Ind., on Sept. 23, 1911. Since that time the home has been in Sedalia continuously.

Besides his widow, he is survived by a daughter, Miss Mary Cecilia Ritchie, a former member of the Democrat and Capital news staffs, and now with the Springfield, Mo. Leader and Press, where she has been the past few years in the news department.

Miss Ritchie, on learning of her father's death, started for Sedalia and arrived this afternoon.

Mrs. Ritchie, as she prepared to leave for school to assume her teaching duties, saw her husband apparently asleep in his bedroom and at first did not disturb him. A short time later she called to arouse him and received no response. She investigated, then called in Dr. W. A. Beckmeyer, who had been treating him for the past several years, more recently when he gradually lost vigor and had a heart affliction. Death was determined as being from that cause.

Mrs. Ritchie was, in his connection with fraternal organizations, a district organizer for the Knights and Ladies of Security, later the Security Benefit Association, in which he held various offices. He was also a charter member of the Knights of the Maccabees tent, named for him as Ritchie Tent.

Politically he was a Republican, promoting interests of that party in numerous campaigns and in 1946 was a candidate for circuit clerk, running against the present incumbent, Bryan Howe. His last political position was as a clerk of the magistrate court.

He was a member of the Congregational-Presbyterian church and in his church life gave considerable time to affiliating in the various activities.

Several decades ago he interested himself in the formation of the Sedalia Athletic club, which had a gymnasium in the old Wood's Opera House building, Second and Lamine, and he was manager of it for several years. It promoted boxing and other athletic events including basketball.

In civic affairs he was always ready to lend support for those things he considered for the betterment of his home town.

The body was taken to the Gillespie funeral home to await completion of funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Maude E. Walker

Mrs. Maude E. Walker, 2829 Bales, Kansas City, Mo., died Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock at her home. The funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Newcomer's funeral home, 414 West 16th, attended the funeral services.

Speaker Urges Building Men Thru Scouts

Lowell Johnson Speaks at Annual Council Meet Wed.

Lowell Johnson, president of the Kansas City Area council, Boy Scouts of America, was the guest speaker at the annual council meeting of the Lake of the Ozarks council, Boy Scouts of America, held Wednesday night on the campus of Missouri Valley college in Marshall.

During his address, Mr. Johnson asked when we were going to stop creating boys for war and begin developing men for peace? He said that our fathers have entered into wars for peace, but we have still failed to win that peace.

However, we still have a "second chance" through the new generation, as parents and as interested citizens in the community.

During the growth of a boy, he enters into three stages. First, with his mother he learns a kindness that only a mother can teach him. If he doesn't learn it from her, he will never learn it.

As a boy grows, and tries out his "dicks," he enters a father-son relationship on fishing trips or with hammer and nails about the home. Here again, only "dad" can help.

Lastly, as the boy grows into young manhood and his horizons broaden, he wants a "man to man" relationship with other men in the community.

Here, Mr. Johnson pointed out, is where we get our "second chance" to aid in the development of this boy, in scouting, meeting him where his interests lie, and creating a fine citizen. This only we can do . . . not mother or father, but we as active Scouters interested in his boy.

Demonstration Of Glow Candle For Girl Scouts

Something new in handicraft was demonstrated Tuesday afternoon at the Girl Scout office by Mrs. Mary Houston. It was the glow candle.

This candle is of a special kind of wax and made in a mold. Some of the wax is then melted and beaten with an egg beater until it becomes frosted, then it is used to frost the outside of the candle. Sometimes crayola is put in to give color. The candle, when lighted, glows from inside.

The candles will be used for Christmas decorations.

A good crowd attended the demonstration.

The demonstration was given at 1:30 and at 2:30 a special instruction class on Girl Scout ceremonies was held, at which new leaders were instructed on ceremonies for presenting pins to Brownies and Intermediate Girl Scouts for attendance.

Complain Missing Plane Over Borders Illegally

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Nov. 21.—(P)—Hungary and Romania complained officially today that a United States army cargo plane—still missing after being fired on by the satellite border guards Monday—crossed over their territories illegally.

Notes were presented to the American missions in Budapest and Bucharest, even as U. S. planes prepared to search over Yugoslavia for the missing C-47 transport, which disappeared Monday with four crewmen and diplomatic cargo aboard.

The two neighboring countries maintain a tight control all along their borders with Yugoslavia.

The notes were presented after American inquiries were made concerning the whereabouts of the plane, whose pilot had radioed his base at Munich Monday afternoon that he had been fired upon by the border patrols of the two countries and had turned back westward.

N.Y. and N. J. Go Against Port Crimes

Two States Join Forces in Campaign Along Waterfront

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—(P)—The states of New York and New Jersey are teaming up for a drive against waterfront crime and racketeering in the port of New York.

Conferences have been held between Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and New Jersey Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll on launching the first concerted two-state cleanup along the piers.

Dewey ordered the New York state crime commission last night to make a "sweeping investigation" on a port-wide basis.

Dewey said he wanted to root out "racketeering, organized crime and restrictive practices which have increasingly over the past 50 years hamstrung the port of New York."

Dewey said he and Gov. Driscoll are engaged "in the process of working out a bi-state cooperative effort which will be announced when the time comes."

At Trenton, N. J., Driscoll said Dewey's order for a commission investigation was "good news" and he told of recent conferences with the New York governor.

Members of the New York crime commission and a number of New Jersey police and prosecuting officials have been included in interstate conferences.

The state crime commission, an investigatory body, does not have the power to indict or prosecute.

Dewey's announcement did not mention any individual or group targets of the waterfront probe.

Parents Decide to Let Son Die as Soon as Possible

ALAMEDA, Calif., Nov. 21—(P)—The distraught parents of three-year-old Rodney Gale have made a heart-breaking decision—to let him die of cancer as soon as possible.

It was one of the toughest decisions a parent could be called upon to make.

A hospital doctor told Mr. and Mrs. LeeRoy Gale that a nitrogen-mustard compound might keep the spark of life alive in Rodney's pain-wracked body for two or three months more.

"We thought about it for a long time," said 29-year-old Mrs. Bonnie Gale last night.

"Then we decided against it. It would only prolong Rodney's misery. And he's miserable enough now."

Death may come at any time. Already Rodney has had his Christmas tree and toys. But he scarcely was able to know it.

Little Rodney became ill last August. Doctors collapsed a lung in September and operated. They found cancer cells were filling his body.

They told the parents to take him home. There was nothing more they could do.

The 33-year-old father laid off work as a freight handler to be with his son.

Breathing for Rodney became laborious. He couldn't walk, scarcely could eat. All he wanted was to ride. His father took him daily—in cars loaned by neighbors.

Staying off work erased father's slim funds. Last Saturday the word of his plight got out to the newspapers.

The story brought an outpouring of generosity.

The Gales have no telephone. So people by the hundreds went to the home.

"There must have been 500 of them," Mrs. Gale said.

The callers brought hams, turkeys, home-canned delicacies, and toys. Three nuns from Berkeley came with a decorated Christmas tree.

Pumpkin Pies of Yams, Turkey And Trim'ins for Korea Yanks tree. A merchant seaman brought presents picked up in the Orient.

Yesterday, Dr. Luigi Luzzatti, medical director of Children's hospital, offered the gift of medical aid—an offer to retard the growth of the cells with a drug. He made it clear that Rodney would die anyway—but perhaps not until Christmas was over.

"We felt the child's parents should make the choice," the doctor said.

Tearfully the Gales searched their hearts and came up with the answer they felt was best even for Rodney. It was "No."

Today Rodney, in great pain, grew weaker. Death might come in days—or hours.

CENTRAL FRONT, Korea, Nov. 21—(P)—The traditional pumpkin pies will be made with sweet potatoes.

The holiday wine will be cans of 3.2 beer.

Battered mess kits will substitute for gleaming silver service and spotless china.

With those exceptions, many American soldiers on the front are going to have a real Thanksgiving dinner Thursday—young tom turkey and all the trimmings. One company commander, Capt. Robert R. Birkhimer, 234 California St., Salinas, Calif., is trying to buy flowers in Seoul for a table setting. If he doesn't get them, Birkhimer will pick wild flowers.

The baker, Sgt. Charles Effinger, 5923 Theodosia St., St. Louis, knew he wasn't going to find any pumpkins. So he planned on sweet potato filling.

Mess Sergeant 1/c Robert Couch of Jackson, Ky., is preparing a menu of stuffed celery hearts, olives, shrimp cocktail, buttered peas and corn, candied yams, turkey, hot rolls, mince pie, fruit cake and fruits.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Candidate Taft Brags He Has Corralled Over 600 Delegates

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 — At a relaxed Washington dinner at the Carlton hotel recently, Sen. Robert Taft cheerfully bragged to close friends that his delegate strength was "way over 600 and going up."

The senator had just come from a month of political bush-beating and a press conference where he was heckled for almost an hour. In high good humor, however, he told top aides Jack Martin and Lou Guylay: "This has been the most productive political month in my career. Everywhere I've been in the midwest and south we are gaining strength. If the convention was today, I would get the nomination on the first ballot."

Guylay supplemented this by giving details on a Taft managers' report placing delegate strength at an all-time high of 600—enough to win on the first roll call. (At the 1948 convention, Taft never hit 300 votes.)

Senator Taft listened, beamed, but commented: "After this trip, I would say our strength is way over 600 and still going up."

Taft's Line-up

Reason for the optimism are the following reports sent in by Taft managers: Three midwest states which turned their backs in 1948 —Indiana, Kentucky and Wisconsin — are on the Taft team. In Indiana, a Dewey state three years ago, national committeeman Ralph Gates, the former governor, ex-Sen. Ray Willis and 68 GOP members of the state legislature are on record for Taft. In Kentucky, national committeeman J. J. Ross Todd, a Dewey man in 1948, is actively pushing Taft. In Wisconsin, Republican boss Tom Coleman is lining up delegates. Coleman is Sen. Joe McCarthy's friend. . . . In Illinois, Sen. Everett Dirksen has dropped "favorite son" ambitions to be Taft's manager. This means Illinois' 60 votes will probably go for Taft on the first ballot. . . . In Pennsylvania, the three top-ranking GOP organization leaders were photographed with Taft at Harrisburg — state chairman Harvey Taylor, national committeeman Masop Oviatt, and Sen. Edward Martin. The other Pennsylvania senator, rugged, independent Jim Duff, is Eisenhower's biggest booster.

New England Trends

The same story of organization politics, deserting the Eisenhower campaign to line up with Taft, is true in New England, Taft managers report. At the 1948 convention, Taft received only four votes from the whole area, now is making heavy inroads in Massachusetts, despite Sens. Leverett Saltonstall and Henry Cabot Lodge's preference for Ike. Taft's manager is the energetic New Bedford publisher, Basil Brewer, who figures the Ohioan will get at least eight Bay State delegates. In other New England states, wily Sen. Owen Brewster is trying to snatch the whole Maine delegation, but will have to overcome the prestige of Sen. Margaret Smith, who leans to Ike. . . . Publisher William Loeb of the Manchester, N. H., Union-Leader, is battling for Taft against ailing Sen. Charles Tobey, while Sen. Styles Bridges sits on the fence. . . . Vermont national committeeman Jim Dewey, a cousin of Gov. Dewey, is openly pro-Taft. . . . In Rhode Island, Taft pulled a crowd of party leaders at a $50-a-plate dinner and ex-GOP national committee press agent Jim Selvaige is organizing for Taft in Connecticut.

Kansas Surprises

At the Carlton dinner the other night, Taft gleefully revealed two surprises. They were promises of strength from both Kansas, Ike's home state, and from New York, under the careful thumb of Gov. Dewey. Publisher Frank Gannett is determined to break Dewey's hold by splitting the delegation for Taft. He has the undercover support of 10 New York congressmen.

Taft did not reveal his contacts in Kansas, but did say that while visiting in Kansas City he had received definite pledges of support from key party leaders.

Taft lieutenants pooh-poohed claims that Eisenhower will puncture Taft's hold in the south. They say that, while the senator will not go into California to oppose Gov. Earl Warren, he expects to break even or better in seven of the 11 western states.

Nevada Friendships

The Senate is always quick to investigate anyone but its own members. However, one situation which badly needs investigating is the way Senator Malone, Nevada Republican, has reversed positions on Tidelands Oil.

At first, Malone fought to turn Tidelands oil over to the states. This was at the same time, that his assistant, Ben Whitehurst, wrote to the Long Beach harbor commissioners on Malone's official stationery, asking $50,000 to lobby for state ownership. However, the deal fell through.

Now Malone has completely reversed himself and is battling for federal ownership. The position he now favors might help turn vast tracts of oil-rich Tidelands over to E. L. Cord, the auto magnate, who bought up forgotten Civil War scrip which he claims entitled him to federally owned Tidelands.

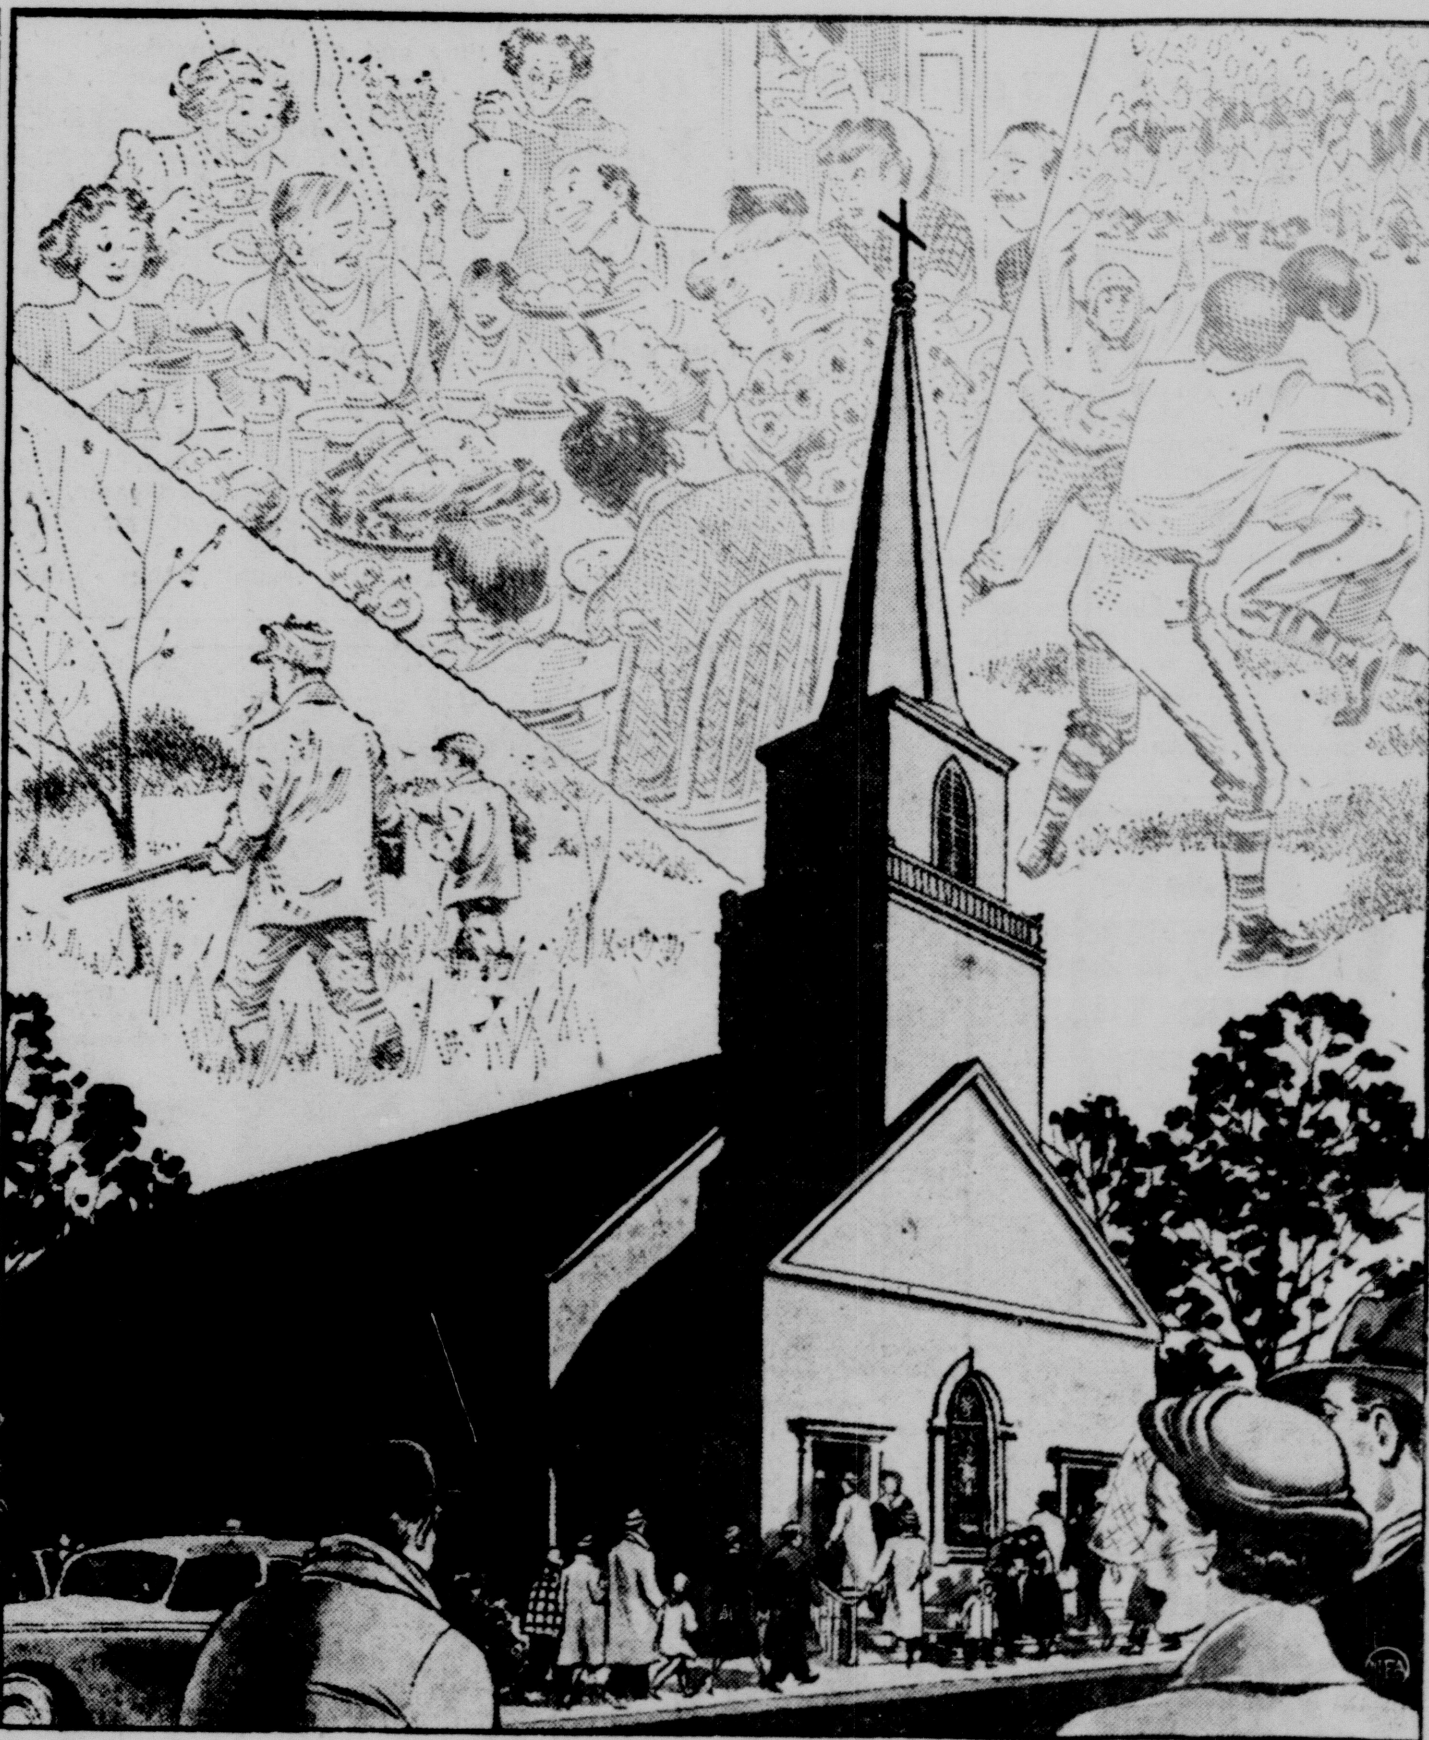

At the same time that Malone takes this position favoring Cord he had been flying around Nevada in Cord's private plane, and has been a house guest at Cord's Fish Lake Valley ranch in the Sierras.

In other words, Malone sided with the Long Beach harbor commissioners as long as his assistant was trying to get $50,000 from them.

Then Malone suddenly switched to Cord's side, and is now accepting favors from Cord. The Senate is investigating Vice President Barkley's secretary for much less. But I predict the Senate will not investigate a fellow senator.

Backstage With the Diplomats

The ABN underground in southern Russia claims three Soviet republics, Kazakh, Uzbek and Turkmen, are boiling with revolt and vast purges. (ABN is an underground of Moslem and Mongolian groups in south and east Russia. Its headquarters is in Turkey.) . . . A peasant revolt in all the European satellites has brought a shake up in Communist agriculture ministries plus short rations. . . . Argentina's anti-American dictator Peron has just fired eight of his top generals, including General Solari, commander-in-chief of the army, and arrested Gen. Arturo Rawson, the former president. This is to prevent another military revolt following the abortive uprising on September 18. . . . The Iranian shah has secretly conferred with a former premier noted for his Russian sympathies who

But, Most of All, a Day to Give Thanks--

Thanksgiving thoughts have a way of turning to turkey and the trimmings, family reunions, the big football game or maybe a hunting trip. But think deeply enough of Thanksgiving and your heart tells you that this is a day to thank Divine Providence for the abundance that is ours. Let the true spirit of this great American holiday pervade the day. And whether it be in church, in our own homes or in the great outdoors, let us not forget to Give Thanks to God.

Odds and Ends
By News Staff

The Rev. Glen Lindley is wearing a new hat—and proud he is to wear it, too.

It all happened this way. The presentation of the "Passion Play" was a big undertaking and the farther the Rotary club members got into it the more they wondered how they were going to come out financially. Most of them thought they were going to have to "shell out" a little hard earned cash to settle up the debts.

On all sides the Rev. Glen Lindley, general chairman, was seeing his fellow Rotarians shaking their heads and hearing comments that they wouldn't make anything on the play—in fact they wouldn't even break even.

It may be his profession—but never-the-less, Mr. Lindley never lost faith. He insisted that everything would come out all right. "If we break even on this," D. S. Lamm told him, "I'll buy you a new hat—it is going to cost us at least $25 apiece."

Monday the Rotarians heard the report on the play—and it was good. They not only broke even but had made money—a few hundred dollars.

Don Lamm had already heard the good news before he went to the meeting so he had along with him a brand new hat for Mr. Lindley.

The Rev. Mr. Lindley was happy over the whole thing and so was Mr. Lamm—it was a relief to know that it wasn't going to cost him any more than a new hat and he was pleased that this great undertaking by the Rotary club had not only proved such a success financially but was so well received by the citizens of Sedalia and surrounding communities.

Bobby isn't too sold on kindergarten. He doesn't see much sense in some of the things the teacher expects of him.

In the first place she calls the roll and he just won't answer. "That's silly to answer," says Bobby, "when she knows I'm there."

Reciting, too, doesn't make much sense. Why should he have to tell her what she told him in the first place?

So, Bobby sits pretty silent through the kindergarten sessions and that was what startled the teacher recently when she went around the room asking each one what their mother said when they couldn't find their coat or cap.

ded, "Not that it's any of your business."

She turned to go and he took a step toward her and stopped. "Darn it, Brownie, I'm sorry I slapped you, but why can't you be nice to me. It's so boring here!"

Here we go again, she thought wearily. His moods fluctuated like a steam-bath thermometer. "You should have gone to Burlington," she said coldly. "Burlington!"

She was saved from further argument by the hollow echo of the door chimes, pealing forlornly through the empty house like a school bell during vacation. Alistair jumped nervously and began putting Ollie's room in shape. When Elizabeth said "I'll go," he grunted some monosyllabic reply.

AARON RIGGS was waiting under the porte cochere. He was so much a part of the Steinhardt's background that she wondered why he bothered to ring the bell. But he did not seem at home as he stood stiffly in the hall rubbing his hands together in a Uriah Heep gesture.

"They all went to Burlington except Alistair," Elizabeth informed him. Had he forgotten? She had overheard Ollie tell him about the contemplated trip on the phone that morning.

"I expected them back by now," She glanced at her watch. "Not until 5 at least, and they may decide to stay for dinner."

"Hmmm. And what is young Alistair up to?"

"I'm not quite sure, but he's busy."

"Well, I'll give them another hour or so," she smiled unctuously, "I want to have a chat with Ollie—it's quite important."

"Why don't you wait in the library?"

"I shall. Don't let me interfere—just go about your business."

"Thank you, I will."

She left him and started up the stairs. When she turned once he was gazing after her, his bleak eyes appraising her figure with a narrow-lidded interest that was even more discomfiting than his usual air of unheeding detachment.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Freezing temperature prevailed throughout this area, the reading being 26 degrees above zero. The heaviest snowfall of the early season was on the ground.

Guy A. Thompson, an attorney from St. Louis, was scheduled as the principal speaker for the regular monthly night meeting of the Rotary club.

In returning from the Missouri-Kansas football game at Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Brill, with Mr. and Mrs. Earli Hoberecht, the latter two of Warrensburg, figured in an automobile accident when the Cadillac touring car they occupied skidded on a slippery roadway near the intersection of highways 40 and 65. The car overturned, injuring Mrs. Hoberecht, who sustained a fractured collarbone. The injuries of Mr. and Mrs. Brill consisted mostly of bruises.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hedger, former Pettis county residents, but more recently of Spokane, Wash., who had been visiting relatives here, left for their home.

W. H. Cloney left for Kansas City on a short business visit and from there was to go to Muskogee, Okla., where he is interested in a laundry.

F. M. Truitt, an engineer for the M. K. & T., purchased the Hi Lewis property at Tenth and Massachusetts.

Attorney James T. Montgomery, sister, Mary Ann, 5, died on the way to the hospital.

Authorities said they could not explain the blaze. Mrs. Wunderlich said the three children had remained home because they were ill. She said she had telephoned to ask her sister to help her.

The father, John Wunderlich, a bricklayer, was at work. Their fourth child, George, 8, was at school.

A. L. Sturges and J. M. Scott, the latter a former Sedalian, were in the Syracuse vicinity hunting quail and other game.

Two carloads of Angora goats, consigned to the National Stockyards in St. Louis by Gerd Mueller, Cole Camp, reached Sedalia over the Warsaw branch of the Missouri Pacific and thence were moved to their destination.

THE STORY: Courtney Benson is found murdered on the morning after his visit to Black Elm, where Elizabeth Brownell is nurse to the invalid owner of the estate, Mrs. Lucien Steinhardt. At the latest it is apparent that Lee Hildrich, a grandson, is not telling the truth, and Alistair, another grandson, admits to Elizabeth that he knew the murderer wore his coat. Now Alistair is alone with Elizabeth.

ELIZABETH had no intention of playing tag with Alistair. He came up to her and placed a hand either side of the door, imprisoning her. His handsome characteristic face was flushed, his eyes hot as he gazed down at her.

"Alistair, you've made a mistake."

He straightened up, his face darkening. "It's Devanter, isn't it?"

"No. Alistair, surely you're not so naive as to think I have to be interested in someone else to reject you?"

"That isn't naive, it's good reasoning. Well, I don't care. Understand, Brownie? I've been wanting a moment with you for a long time and I'm not going to waste the opportunity."

He put his arm around her waist. Elizabeth twisted in his embrace. But he was young and strong and determined. Then suddenly a picture of Bill Devanter as she had seen him that day at the lookout flashed across her mind. His slow easy drawl, his teasing yet considerate care of her. "We sort of like each other, don't we?" he had asked.

So different from this spoiled young man, used to having his own way. She knew then what she was going to do and she knew too that it would alienate Alistair Steinhardt forever. She began to laugh.

"Really Alistair, what is this? Approach No. 24, Cave Man Style?"

He released her slightly. "Stop laughing at me!"

Swiftly he pinioned her arms

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Furs had been gathered all summer, and stored away to be made into winter clothing. That fall an abundant harvest was reaped.

William Bradford was elected to the first of many terms as governor of Plymouth Colony, succeeding the first governor, John Carver, who died in office.

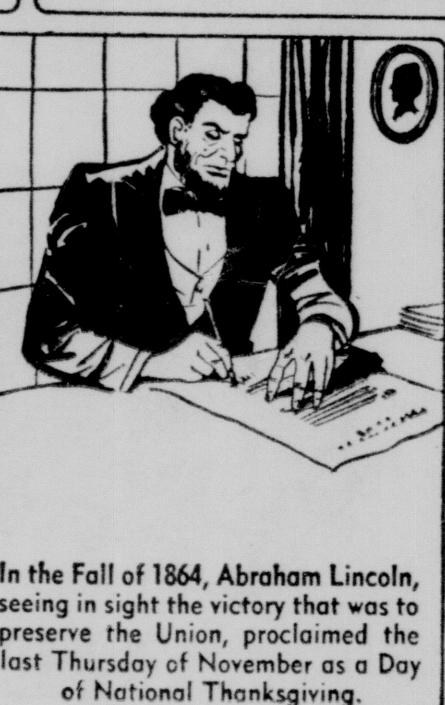

The 51 members of the colony, plus their Indian allies, held a great feast of Thanksgiving, which lasted three days. It was America's first Thanksgiving Day.

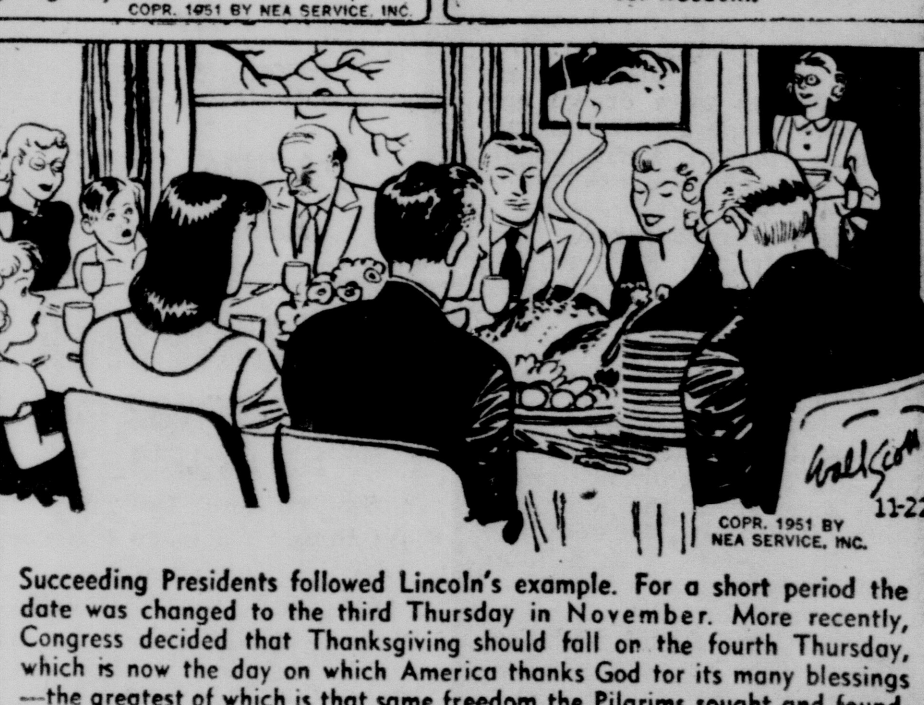

Many hardships remained to be overcome. But with Thanksgiving in their hearts, the Pilgrims knew that, with God's help, they had won their battle for freedom.

As America grew, it became the custom for the governors of each of the States to set aside a day of Thanksgiving each year.

In the Fall of 1864, Abraham Lincoln, seeing in sight the victory that was to preserve the Union, proclaimed the last Thursday of November as a Day of National Thanksgiving.

Succeeding Presidents followed Lincoln's example. For a short period the date was changed to the third Thursday in November. More recently, Congress decided that Thanksgiving should fall on the fourth Thursday, which is now the day on which America thanks God for its many blessings—the greatest of which is that same freedom the Pilgrims sought and found.

Settle Strike That Would Cut Off Plasma

Walkout Is Averted In Blood Plant By Unanimous Vote

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Ratification of a new contract by union chemical workers has averted a strike which threatened drastically to slow down the flow of blood plasma to the armed forces in Korea.

Herbert Heath, president of Local 86, United Chemical Workers (CIO), said only 75 of the 975 union members were absent from the meeting and that those attending voted unanimously for the agreement with Sharp and Dohme, Philadelphia pharmaceutical firm. The agreement was perfected earlier in Washington during a 16-hour meeting with arbitrators.

The strike, scheduled to start last midnight, would have halted the processing of the vital fluid at the company's nearby West Point, Pa., plant. This plant supplies about one fourth of the plasma sent to the armed forces.

The company-union announcement said the new 12-month contract calls for an immediate 4.4 per cent wage increase, a wage-reopening clause after six months, automatic wage increases on temporary transfers to higher job classifications, and a modified security clause. The latter supercedes a maintenance of membership clause.

Union spokesmen said the maintenance of membership or union shop rule requires all employees to join the union. Under the modified security provision, they said, non-union men keep their present jobs, the membership requirement applying only to new employees. The new agreement also permits the resignation of any member from the union within 30 days of the signing of the contract. Thereafter, however, members must remain in the union for the life of the contract.

This Cook Wants Rare Hamburger, No Turkey, Thanx

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Most people like turkey for Thanksgiving, but where Wolfgang Singer is concerned, hamburger tickles his palate. Singer says he probably has cooked as many—or more—turkeys than any man alive—54,000. He cooks them day in and day out as roasting cook at the Palace hotel.

"There's nothing finer to see than a well-browned turkey," says Singer. "But, mind you—only to see. It's hard enough to forget turkey at the end of a day—much less eat them."

Singer came here 26 years ago from Germany where "there aren't many turkeys and people don't like them. They eat geese."

"Me, I'd rather eat hamburger, nice rare hamburger. Of course, my wife Minna and I usually go to a friend's home for Thanksgiving."

"And they usually serve turkey," he sighed. It was lunch time. Singer excused himself and came back with an inch thick hamburger "nice and rare."

"This is what I want to eat Thanksgiving night," he said. "But they'll probably dish up turkey."

"And they'll probably ask me what I think of it. I wish I could tell them."

Train Derailed, Only Porter, of 200, Hurt

GILMAN, Ill., Nov. 21.—(AP)—The Illinois Central railroad's Louisiana, 17 coach train from Memphis, was derailed at Gilman Tuesday. A porter was the only person reported injured.

George Elliott, editor of the Gilman Star, said nine cars of the Chicago bound train left the rails but all remained upright. Cause of the derailment was not determined immediately.

About 200 passengers were aboard the train.

Almost Half the German V-2 Experts Now Settled in 'Bama

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Almost half the experts from Germany's top world war two guided missile project are now settled down with their families at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala., helping develop missile weapons for the United States.

The Army Ordnance Corps brought over about 130 of the 300 or so key technical men from Peenemunde — key Nazi missile station of the Baltic — shortly after the war. They were the only group of scientists in the world who had up to that time produced a guided missile that works as a weapon. The V-2 rockets they produced became one of the most dangerous weapons used against Great Britain late in the war.

The Germans — engineers, scientists and other experts — were first taken to Fort Bliss, Texas. Some assisted for a time in the assembling and launching of guided missiles at White Sands, N. M., where almost 100 V-2's have been fired.

They were all taken to Redstone in September, 1950, when the Army Ordnance Corps made that arsenal its guided missile center. At Redstone it consolidated all its work in the basic research and development of guided missiles.

Dr. Werner Von Braun, a high ranking Peenemunde scientist, has top authority among the Germans, but Americans are in charge.

Want Embargo Lifted

SINGAPORE, (P)—Hong Kong manufacturers who attended a recent economic conference here with American officials hope to see the U. S. embargo on raw materials to Hong Kong lifted.

They escorted E. E. Scinellbacher and Eugene Brademan of the Department of Commerce around their exhibits at the Happy World Exposition here. The idea was to let the Americans see for themselves that goods manufactured from American raw materials were mainly intended for export to Southeast Asia.

A spokesman for the Hong Kong Chinese Manufacturers' Union pointed out that the U. S. embargo, aimed at preventing essential goods from flowing to Red China, has hampered Hong Kong's industrial expansion.

Papa's In a Dither! Doesn't Want Baby Born Out In The Rain

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 21.—(AP)—An excited man ran into a garage, shouting: "The baby's coming! What am I going to do?" "Come in out of the rain," suggested mechanic Thornley Hogan.

But Benjamin Vegas, 21 dashed back to his car. Hogan called police, then went to the car—as 17-year-old Mrs. Vegas was giving birth to a 7-pound daughter yesterday.

"I didn't want our first baby born out in the rain," Vegas said. "I'm sorry if I scared the mechanic."

The bird arrived by messenger. The delegation said it had no idea who sent it.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky was presented with a dove last week as a symbol of world union.

Straitjacket For Sports Set by NCAA

Overemphasis Gets Rigid Control Under New Proposed Plan

CHICAGO, Nov. 21 — (AP) — A straitjacket for overemphasis of college sports has been devised by the NCAA policy-making council for national adoption.

Rigid controls that would strengthen academic standards, provide an antidote for professionalism, combat recruiting, and in general, put a lid on pressures to win at any cost, were drafted by the all-powerful council after a two-day session.

The council ordered a moratorium throughout 1952 on contractual commitments for post-season events such as bowl games. A special study will be made to determine the degree of pressure post-season sports, especially bowl games, creates in the build up of overemphasis.

A 12-point reform program will be submitted to the NCAA convention in Cincinnati Jan. 9-12. Hugh Willett of Southern California, NCAA president, said the program has the support of a "substantial majority" of the association's 320 member schools. With this support assured, officials held high hope of national acceptance.

A year ago in Dallas, the convention rejected the so-called sanity code, a weapon designed to be used against recruiting and commercialism.

However, in the last year basketball scandals have shocked the country and started a seething undercurrent throughout collegiate athletic structures. Blackening the picture have been sharp attacks publicly.

Judge Saul S. Streit of New York, after blasting commercialism and overemphasis in college football, yesterday said "denials, reports and surveys will serve no purpose unless the college administrations change their present methods."

Judge Streit, who handed out jail sentences in the basketball bribery scandal Monday, declared that "unless colleges take heed, all the efforts of the district attorneys, the state and the entire exposure will serve no purpose whatsoever."

Meanwhile, college presidents—members of a special committee set up by the American council on education—ending their first meeting in Washington, D. C.

Studying what's wrong with sports, they agreed that athletes should not be allowed to take only so-called snap courses, that colleges and universities must practice the high principles they preach, and that presidents must assume full responsibility for their athletic programs.

Boxer Suffers Brain Hemorrhage In Fight

DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 21 — (AP) — A young heavyweight boxer was in critical condition in a hospital today suffering from a brain hemorrhage after being knocked out in a bout last night.

Surgeons said an operation may be necessary for the boxer, Lawrence Cole, 24, of St. Paul, Minn. Cole was knocked out in the fourth round of a preliminary bout by Bunny Roetter, of Stillwater, Minn. Cole was leading on points up to the knockout punch. When he failed to respond, artificial respiration was administered in the ring and he was removed to St. Mary's hospital.

Dr. C. M. Smith, Duluth, a member of the Minnesota athletic commission, described the fighter's condition as critical.

ORLANDO, Fla., Nov. 21 — (AP) — Bucknell university has been invited to play in the Tangerine bowl as host team in the New Year's day football game, officials said last night.

Second Guessing For This Q-back Stopped Quickly

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 21 — (AP) — Jack Adkins, assistant coach at Carver high school, which has one of Arizona's top football teams, let the Phoenix Press Box association in on a secret today.

"At the first of the season," he said, "we used to second-guess our quarterback, Burnis Brooks, quite a bit. We sent in plays from time to time when it looked like he might be uncertain."

"Well, once we caught a 15-yard penalty and we were first down, 25 yards to go. Brooks called for Lafayette Winrow and Winrow got 24 yards, so we had only a yard left."

"But we noticed Winrow carried the ball sort of loose on that play, so we sent in a man to tell Brooks to tell Winrow to keep the ball low."

"We were horrified when, on the next play, Carver kicked. Soon as Brooks came out I asked him why he called a punt on second down with a yard left."

"Why," said Brooks, "that substitute came up and told me the coach said to kick it low."

"I told Brooks he should have realized there was a misunderstanding. What in the world did you think about our telling you to kick in a situation like that?" I asked him.

"I thought," Brooks said, "that we were sure gettin' some lousy coaching out here tonight."

"We didn't second guess Brooks much more after that."

S-H Beats Cole Camp For 4th Win

The Sacred Heart Gremlins notched their fourth consecutive victory of the young basketball season Tuesday evening by outscoring the Cole Camp high school squad, 47-36, in a contest played on the latter's court.

The Gremlins held a 16-12 lead at half-time despite their inability to hit consistently—cold as the Sedalians were, the home quintet was more so.

It was a different story after intermission—both teams began to find the range with improved regularity. Sacred Heart doggedly built-up a commanding lead, and coasted home.

For the Gremlins, Fall was the high-point man in a well-balanced attack with 15 points. He was followed by Ryan and Labus with ten each. Ackerman paced Cole Camp with 13 and Pretzel tossed in ten. The Cole Camp girls evened the score for the night, however, by trouncing the Sacred Heart volleyball team, 23-8.

Next week will be a busy one for Coach Palmer Nichols' cagers. They play Houstonia Tuesday night on their home court, engage Houstonia here Friday evening, and journey to Jefferson City Sunday for a contest with the St. Peters Saints.

Opening Event

One fall with a 30-minute limit.

Time: 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

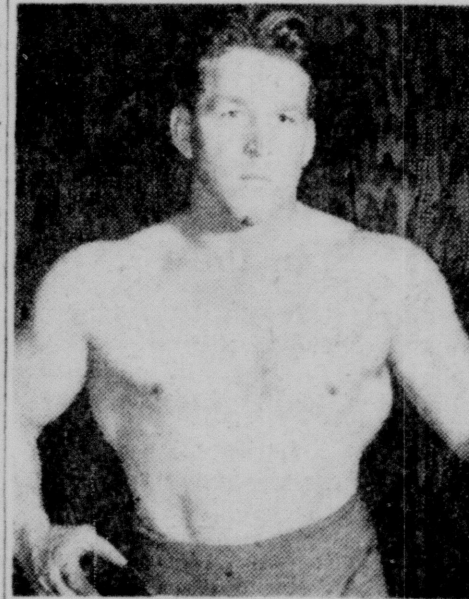

Place: National Guard Armory.

Referee: Ben Sherr, Shawnee, Kas.

Tonight, Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, will present an all-man wrestling card as their Thanksgiving Eve program at the National Guard Armory. The first match will start at 8:30 p.m.

Frank Altman, Seattle, Wash., who has won his last three matches in the main event on the heavy-weight elimination tourney will be defending his ranking when he meets Pat Hogan, Chicago, in the top event. Hogan is anxious to eliminate Altman and win the right to meet Roy Dunn, Gate, Okla., the heavyweight champion wrestler of the United States.

Much discussion and debate has arisen over the championship holder, one declaring it is Lou Thesz, St. Louis. But Dunn holds and has in his possession the championship belt—which gives him more of a right to declare himself as the real champion.

Hence the heavyweight wrestlers are all bidding for an opportunity to meet Dunn.

The semi-final event will bring together Neil Warren, Columbus, Ohio, and Tex Barker of San Antonio, Tex. Warren who has demonstrated some roughness in the right is expected to meet his match in that art when Barker climbs through the ropes. This event should provide the fans with a full 45-minutes of mat roughness.

Opening the evening of entertainment will be a match between George Lippold, handsome heavy-weight from St. Joseph, Mo., and Tom Hawkins, Dallas, Tex., who will wrestle for the best fall in a 30-minute time limit.

The entire wrestling card indicates wrestling as the Sedalia fans like it, something which Promoter Gus Spartan is endeavoring to do.

Predictions of Things Coming Up Turkey Day on Gridirons

By Harold Claassen
LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 21 — (AP) — Trying to pick football winners with one eye on the past performance charts of the various teams while the other wanders from cigar factories to colts to coeds to turkeys.

So, under a handicap, here are Saturday's victors:

Tennessee over Kentucky: A total of 13 points was scored in the last two meetings of these Dixie giants, all by Tennessee. The Vols may not be able to shut out the Wildcats for a third straight year but Tennessee has the horses to outscore Kentucky.

California over Stanford: This week's ring-tailed special. Stanford to taste defeat for the first time this year.

Michigan State over Colorado: The No. 2 team in the country smacks down the No. 2 team in the Big Seven conference.

Princeton over Dartmouth: Dick Kazmaier, Princeton's candidate for all-everything honors, says farewell to the home folks.

Maryland over West Virginia: It is as simple as this—Maryland defeated Washington & Lee, 54 to 14; Washington & Lee, in turn, trounced West Virginia, 34 to 0. By comparative scores it should be 88 to 14.

Yale over Harvard: They enter the Yale bowl with tattered records but it still is the Yale-Harvard game.

Illinois over Northwestern: The Illinois conquer their jinx team and get plane tickets for the Rose Bowl game all in one rugged afternoon.

Wisconsin over Minnesota and Purdue over Indiana: Wisconsin and Purdue finish their Big Ten schedules with victories but will wind up in that order behind Illinois in the conference standings.

Rice over Texas Christian and Baylor over Southern Methodist: Rice and Baylor will win to set the stage for their own climatic clash at Fort Worth with the conference tilt at stake on Dec. 1.

Georgia Tech over Davidson: Tech tests Darrel Crawford's arm to see if it is in shape for the game with Georgia a week later.

Skipping over the rest in a hurry:

Thursdays
Denver over Colorado A. and M., Utah over Idaho, Virginia Military over Virginia Tech, Washington and Lee over Richmond.

Stanford, SMU Have Linemen Of The Week

Manoogian, Rose Bowl Bound; Forester of Mustangs

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 — (P) — A guard from the Pacific Coast conference and a tackle from the Southwest conference were picked today as the linemen of the week in the Associated Press poll.

Norman Manoogian, of Stanford's unbeaten Rose Bowl bound team, earned the nod on the offensive side. Big Bill Forester, of Southern Methodist, won defensive honors.

Forester's feat was unusual in that he shifted to fullback on offense and in that position lugged the ball over for two touchdowns against Arkansas.

On defense, at tackle, however, he turned in what his coach, H. N. Russell, termed one of the finest games of the season. "He made tackles everywhere," Russell said. Manoogian was the key man up front in Stanford's victory over Oregon State. His blocking was tremendous.

So many linemen played a whale of a game on both sides in the scoreless Ohio State-Illinois game at Columbus, Ohio, that there was no outstanding individual.

That wasn't the case in other games.

Ted Daffer, Tennessee guard, enjoyed what some observers called the greatest day of his career against Mississippi.

Dick (Little Mo) Modzelewski, Maryland tackle, similarly had a good day. So did Ray Beck, Georgia Tech guard; Jim Weatherall, Oklahoma tackle; Bob Werckle, Vanderbilt tackle; Jim Nutscheller, Notre Dame end; and Ed Barker, Washington State end.

Linemen nominated this week: Ennis — George Norris, North Carolina; Tom Scott, Virginia; Jim Nutscheller, Notre Dame; Bill Glazier, Arizona; Ed Barker, Washington State; Bill Howton, Rice; Stanley Williams, Baylor; Tom Stolhand, Texas; Bill McColl, Stanford.

Tackles—Bill Forester, Southern Methodist; Dick Modzelewski, Maryland; Jim Jeannot, Cornell; Bill Peerman, Tennessee; Jim Weatherall, Oklahoma; Morgan Williams, Texas Christian; Bob Werckle, Vanderbilt; Ed Meadows, Duke.

Guards—Ted Daffer, Tennessee; Harley Sewell, Texas; Norman Manoogian, Stanford; Ray Beck, Georgia Tech; Joe Palumbo, Virginia.

Centers—Dick Szymanski, Notre Dame; Chuck Boerio, Illinois; Larry White, New Mexico.

You, Too? LOS ANGELES — (P) — Hey, if you bite your nails, you may be maladjusted. While it's just a bad habit like smoking or chewing gum, psychologists have also discovered that:

1. There are more nail-biters among maladjusted groups, like juvenile delinquents.

2. Nail-biting tends to be "in-tripunities," meaning they do it to punish themselves, particularly when frustrated or angry.

3. One out of five biters is a young person.

Dr. James C. Coleman, assistant professor of psychology on the UCLA campus, has discovered these tendencies in his research. He has written a book adopted by the U.S. army for training in psychology. One cure for nail-biting is vigorous exercise, he says.

Winston Churchill fought in the last decisive battle with British-Egyptian forces at Omdurman in 1898 in the Sudan campaign which began British-Egyptian joint rule of the Sudan.

Kazmaier Top Offensively

May Be First East Area Gridder to Win Gaining Honors

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 — (P) — Princeton's Dick Kazmaier, in line for a bushful of honors, was virtually assured today of becoming the first eastern football player to win the major-college total offense title.

Kazmaier, 29th in total offense a month ago, tops the field with a lofty 1,707 yards gained by rushing and passing—118 more than runner-up Don Klosterman of Loyola of California.

The tiger also leads in touchdown-responsibility with 22. He has scored nine and passed for 13 more. He also is tops in pass completion percentage with 64 per cent and average gain per offense play, 6.9 yards.

Paul Gervani of Columbia was the only other eastern performer to come close to winning the total offense crown. Gervani finished second to Georgia's Frank Sinkwich in 1942.

Klosterman is second in total offense with 1,589 yards, of which 1,632 have resulted from passing, minus 43 from rushing. Babers of Oklahoma A. and M. ranks 6th with 1,444 yards.

Kentucky's Babe Parilli is second to Klosterman in forward passing with 121 completions but leads in touchdown passes with 19.

In the other departments, Ollie Matson of San Francisco leads in rushing with 1,454 yards. Hugh McElhenny of Washington is scoring with 118 points. Frank Goode, Hardin-Simmons in number of carries, 227 and Buck McPhail, Oklahoma on yards-per-carry, 9.6.

Waugh of Tulsa ranks 6th in rushing with 862 yards. Oklahoma's McPhail is tenth with 793. Babers rates the number 3 spot in forward passing with 1,320 yards.

Mass Killing BILLINGS, Mont. — (P) — Range-ridding is more than just watching the dogies: Frank Hendren killed 665 rattlesnakes in six days while at work for a livestock company.

He found them gathering in a basin, piled in bunches of 18 to 20 getting ready to den up for the winter. Hendren used a 1x4 board about 5 feet long to toss them away from their holes. Then he clubbed them to death. He notched the board to keep count.

Never Too Late RAINY RIVER, Ont. — (P) — Smokers who claim they can't give up the habit should talk to William Good. He gave up smoking last spring after 75 years, and so far has managed to elude temptation.

South's Best Running Back, Passer Meet In Same Game

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 21 — (P) — The south's best running back versus the south's best passer — that's a side dish the Kentucky-Tennessee football game offers Saturday at Lexington, Ky.

Hank Lauricella, Tennessee's talented triple-threat tailback, generally is conceded to be the finest runner developed in the south since '46 when Charlie Trippi won all-America honors at Georgia.

On The Wrong Track BISMARCK, N. D., (P) — August Lang of Bismarck heard a train whistle as his car approached a crossing. He looked to his left and saw a switch engine bearing down on him. Lang quickly turned his car to avoid being hit.

He found himself driving down the tracks in front of the engine. Lang finally forced the car over onto another set of tracks. He then jumped into a ditch and was unhurt. The damage was four tires ruined and a steering mechanism thrown out of whack.

Vito (Babe) Parilli's aerial exploits at Kentucky have been making headlines for three years. Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant calls Parilli the finest passer and greatest T-quarterback in football, pro or collegiate.

The 22-year-old Rochester, Pa., flinger already has established four national passing records. They are: Most scoring passes in one season, 23 in 1950; most yards gained by passing in three-year period, 4,172; most passes completed over three-year period, 316; and most touchdown passes in three years, 50.

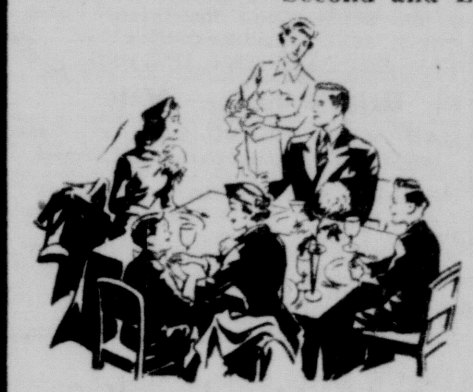

The Kentucky babe has completed 121 out of 214 tosses this year for 19 touchdowns and 1,464 net yards.

Statistically, Lauricella's record is hardly as imposing as Parilli's. But his value to Tennessee and its single wing system cannot be measured in the statistics column.

He's the chief runner, passer, kicker and field general for Tennessee, the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll.

Hal Boyle's Column--

Pavement Plato Cleans His Notebook of Comedy of Errors

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — (AP) — Notebook jottings by a pavement Plato:

One of the sadder aspects of the weird times we live in is the unexpected impact they have on the minds of your young.

The other night a father woke up to hear his small son crying bitterly in the dark. He arose and went into the boy's room to find out what was wrong.

"I forgot the Lord's prayer, daddy," sobbed his son.

"But you said it just before you went to bed," said the father.

"I know," replied the child.

"But I dreamed I was talking to a scientist, and he told me all the air was escaping from the earth, and everybody in the world would soon be dead. And I tried to say the Lord's prayer and I couldn't remember it."

The father soothed his fears and said, "Of course, you remember it, son. Let's say it together."

And they chanted, "Our Father, who art in heaven—"

Soon the small boy was sound asleep again. But the father stayed awake for a long, long time.

Monologue overheard in Greenwich Village: "The trouble with me is I'm too light for heavy work and too heavy for light work. That is my trouble — I don't fit in."

Manhattan snapshot: An old lady, out walking with her dog, paused at a First Avenue doorway in which a dirty-whiskered bum lay curled, his eyes closed, majestically at peace.

"You're a bad boy, that's what you are — a bad boy," she said, shaking her head.

The elderly demented sat up and muttered belligerently:

"Whass that you said? I heard you."

"I said you are a bad boy," replied the old lady sternly, pulling back her dog.

"Thass right, thass right," agreed the bum, lying back contentedly.

"You got a sixth sense, lady."

Sidelights on the Famous: Novelist John Hersey, who won first renown as a reporter, never worked on a daily newspaper. . . . John Daly, one of television's busiest emcees, keeps fit for his video chores by spending his spare hours on a tennis court. . . . Sign of better times in Korea: Gen. Matt Ridgway, who used to wear two hand grenades during battlefront tours, now just carries one.

To Members of the Worry-of-the-Month Club: Get ready now to wrinkle your brows over our December selection: What to do about old vests?

We feel that this should be perhaps our most popular worry-of-the-month during 1951. Many men complain their closets are bulging with old vests they no longer wear. They refuse to throw them away, however, and wives say they can't use them to make skirts.

What will be done with all the nation's old vests? Don't wait until December. Start worrying about this problem now. It deserves your best anxiety.

Are all American school children today reading the same gag writers? I asked four kids recently what was their favorite subject in school.

All four gave the same answer: "Recess!"

KNOB NOSTER

To Elect Boards For New School Districts Nov. 28

By Mrs. Russell Kendrick

KNOB NOSTER—Nov. 28 has been set for the date for the election of members of the new six-man school boards for the five districts which voted for reorganization in the election held Nov. 5.

They are: Kingsville R-1, Holden R-III, Centerville R-V, Knob Noster R-VIII and Leeton R-X. The old school boards, which were serving the districts before the recent election, have been dissolved.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle D. Bolton of Blossom, Tex., are the parents of a seven pound, 14 ounce daughter born Nov. 9. The baby has been named Linda Kay. Mr. and Mrs. Bolton have three sons, Rodney, 6, Jerry, 4, and Stephen, 2.

Mrs. Bolton is the former Dorothy Wimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wimer of Knob Noster. Mr. and Mrs. Wimer left Thursday morning for Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kelley and son, Mark, of Willow Springs spent the week-end with Mr. Kelley's mother, Mrs. Nell Kelley and daughter, Marjorie, and Mrs. Kelley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Lay. James Kelley of Kansas City also spent the week-end with his mother and sister.

Members of the Lion's club met at the Christian church Monday evening. A dinner was served by the AMC Sunday school class. Jack Saults, Bert Saults and Richard Zink, who have recently been discharged from service were welcomed back into the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Wharton and children, Dale, Larry, Jerry, Mike and Judy, entertained with a turkey dinner at their home Sunday.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Siegfried, Rosemary, Lois Carolyn and Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bailey, Doris and Roger, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Miller, Charles and Wayne, and Barbara and Wanda Coats.

Because of the influx of money and equipment into oil-rich Saudi Arabia, this primitive nomadic country is making a jump of centuries of technical progress in a few years.
